

"I recently had the pleasure of taking a beginners watercolor painting class with Peggy, and I cannot express how much I enjoyed the experience. From start to finish, this class was an absolute delight, and I highly recommend it to anyone looking to dip their toes into the world of watercolor art.

First and foremost, Peggy was fantastic. She was not only incredibly knowledgeable but also patient and encouraging. She created a warm and welcoming atmosphere that made all of us beginners feel comfortable and confident in our abilities. She broke down the techniques and concepts in a way that was easy to understand, making watercolor painting seem accessible to even the most novice artist. The class itself was well-organized and structured, covering all the essential basics of watercolor painting, from selecting the right materials to mastering various brush strokes and blending techniques. We also learned about color theory and how to create beautiful gradients and textures, which was incredibly insightful. The hands-on aspect of the class was the highlight for me. We had ample time to practice what we learned and create our own watercolor masterpieces. The instructor provided individual feedback and guidance, which helped me improve my skills and gain confidence with each stroke of the brush. The class size was just right – small enough to receive personalized attention, yet large enough to foster a sense of community among the participants. I not only learned from Peggy but also gained inspiration from my fellow classmates, all of whom came from various backgrounds and had unique artistic perspectives. The materials provided were of high quality, and I appreciated that we had the chance to experiment with different types of paper, brushes, and paints. It allowed us to discover which tools worked best for our individual preferences and styles. In conclusion, this beginners watercolor painting class was an incredibly enriching and enjoyable experience. I left the class with newfound knowledge, improved skills, and a newfound passion for watercolor painting. I'm excited to continue my artistic journey, thanks to the strong foundation I received in this class. If you're a beginner looking to explore the world of watercolors, I highly recommend enrolling in this class – you won't be disappointed!"

"Thoroughly enjoyed Peggy's teaching style during class. Feel like I gained significant skill in watercolor in only a short time! "
