

Peggy credits her artist-mother with encouraging and nurturing Peggy's artist interests from a young age. Throughout most of her life, Peggy has honed her technique and focused her attention on improving her realistic watercolor technique. Peggy enjoys teaching others interested in the medium and has been teaching students since 2018. She is a highly regarded artist and has exhibited in many venues, both in person and online, in solo, invitational and group exhibits. She is consistently a favorite artist in the various online exhibits in which her work has been shown.
